STIPULATION AND ORDER FOR
PROTECTIVE ORDER

20 IT IS HEREBY STIPULATED AND AGREED, by Plaintiff MISTI LOPICCOLO
21 (hereinafter "Plaintiff"), by and through her attorney of record, Leah Ronhaar, Esq. of
22 BRADLEY DRENDEL & JEANNEY, Defendant PROGRESSIVE CASUALTY INSURANCE
23 COMPANY (hereinafter "Defendant"), by and through their attorney of record David Zaniel,
24 Esq., of RANALLI, ZANIEL, FOWLER & MORAN and, that a Protective Order be entered by 25 this Court as follows:

26 PROTECTIVE ORDER

27 1. Discovery in this action will require the Parties to provide documents that contain
28 information that is confidential, proprietary, and/or sensitive. Disclosure of this information

1 could result in harm to the disclosing Party. Although this information must be disclosed, the 2 disclosing Party is entitled to the protections described below.

3 2. In addition, Plaintiff and the Defendant may seek other Confidential Material.
4 This Protective Order shall apply to all documents, materials, and information that is sought by a
5 party either from other parties to this litigation or from any third party with possession or custody
6 of Confidential Material during discovery, including without limitation, documents produced,
7 answers to interrogatories, responses to requests for admission, deposition testimony, and other
8 information disclosed pursuant to the disclosure or discovery duties created by the Federal Rules
9 of Civil Procedure. The Parties assert the disclosure of Confidential Material outside the scope of 10 this litigation could result in significant injury to one or more of the Parties' business or privacy
11 interests and could result in significant injury to a third party's privacy interests, as well as 12 significantly erode the attorney-client privilege. The Parties have entered into this Stipulation
13 and request the Court enter this Protective Order for the purpose of preventing the disclosure and 14 use of Confidential Material except as set forth herein.
15

16 3. As used in this Protective Order, the term "confidential information" means any 17 documents, testimony, or other information for which protection from disclosure has been 18 identified, requested or designated by any subsequent order of the Court relating to medical 19 records, proprietary documentation, etc.
20

21 4. The term "disclosure" shall include the dissemination, communication,
22 publication, or reproduction of any confidential material or the contents of the information
23 contained therein, or the communication of any estimate or other information which facilitates
24 the discovery of confidential information.
25

26 5. As used in this Protective Order, the term "qualified persons" means (i) counsel of 27
28

1 record for the parties to the litigation, including office associated, paralegal, and stenographic
2 and clerical employees to whom disclosure is reasonably necessary; (ii) experts retained for the 3 purpose of this litigation to whom disclosure is reasonably necessary and who have signed the 4 Confidentiality Agreement, a form of which is attached hereto as EXHIBIT "1", (iii) parties to 5 this action who have signed the Confidentiality Agreement, a form of which is attached hereto as 6 EXHIBIT "1", and (iv) Arbitrator and his staff; (v) court personnel, including stenographic
7 reporters engaged in such proceedings as are necessarily incident to this litigation.
8

10 6. Confidential information shall be and remain confidential, and, except as allowed
11 by this Protective Order, may not be disclosed or communicated, nor used for any purpose other 12 than this litigation, including any appeals.

13 7. Any and all documents containing confidential information must be retained by 14 counsel and not be disclosed or made available to any person other than a qualified person who 15 has read and acknowledged the terms of this Protective Order. Similarly, the confidential
16 information contained within those documents may not be disclosed to any person other than a
17 qualified person. To the extent reasonably necessary, copies of confidential documents may be 18 provided to experts retained for the purpose of this litigation to whom disclosure is reasonably
19 necessary and who have signed the Confidentiality Agreement. Nothing in this Protective Order
20 shall in any way affect the admissibility at trial of any of the documents produced under this 21 Protective Order.
22

24 8. Any person who is in possession of confidential information, or to whom 25 confidential information is disclosed, is responsible for ensuring that such confidential
26 information is not inadvertently disclosed by him or her. Failure to take all reasonable
27 precautions to insure against such inadvertent disclosure will be viewed by the Court as willful
28

1 disobedience of this Protective Order and will be punished accordingly.

2 9. Counsel receiving confidential information may not disclose that confidential
3 information to any expert without first furnishing to that expert a copy of this Protective Order
4 and obtaining from that expert an executed Confidentiality Agreement, a form of which is
5 attached hereto as EXHIBIT "1". The original of any such executed Confidentiality Agreement
6 must be retained in the office of counsel who retained the expert. Copies of any such executed
7 Confidentiality Agreement must immediately be served upon counsel for all other parties.
8

9 10. Any person who executed a copy of the Confidentiality Agreement attached hereto
10 submits to the jurisdiction of this Court for purposes of enforcement of this Protective Order,
11 either prior to or following trial of this action. Jurisdiction of this action is to be retained by this 12 Court after final determination for purposes of enabling any party or persons affected by this 13 Protective Order to apply to the Court for such direction or further decree as may be appropriate
14 for the construction or enforcement of this Protective Order or for such additional relief as may 15 become appropriate.
16
17

18 11. Before being copied for production, documents containing confidential information
19 must be marked "CONFIDENTIAL."
20

21 12. Objections to Designations:

22 a. If any Party believes that material otherwise designated as Confidential
23 Material should not be classified as such, that Party shall, within 30 days of receiving the 24 Confidential Material, state the objection by letter to counsel for the opposing Party, setting the 25 forth the reasons that the objecting Party believes the material should not be treated as 26 Confidential and/or Privileged, as the case may be.
27
28

1 b. The Producing Party shall respond, in writing, within ten (10) days, setting
2 forth the reason(s) that Party believes the material should be treated as Confidential Material.

3 c. If the objection cannot be reasonably resolved by agreement of counsel,
4 the Producing Party may move the Court for an appropriate order regarding such designation.
5 The burden of proof regarding the confidentiality of the materials shall remain with the 6 Producing Party.
7

8 d. Until an objection to the designation of the materials has been resolved by 9 agreement of counsel or by order of the Court, the materials shall be treated as Confidential and 10 remains subject to this Protective Order.
11

12 13. Unless otherwise permitted by statute, rule or prior Court order, papers filed with 13 the Court under seal shall be accompanied by a contemporaneous motion for leave to file those 14 documents under seal, and shall be filed consistent with the Court's electronic filing procedures
15 in accordance with Local Rule. The party seeking to file a paper under seal bears the burden of 16 overcoming the presumption in favor of public access to papers filed in Court. Kamakana v. City
17 and Court of Honolulu, 447 F. 3d 1172 (9th Cir. 2006); Pinto v. Pac. Creditors Ass'n, 605 F.3d
18 665,677-78 (9th Cir. 2010).
19

20 14. Nothing in this Protective Order precludes the deposition examination of any person
21 regarding confidential information of which they have knowledge. All transcripts of said
22 deposition containing confidential information will be treated in accordance with this Protective 23 Order.
24

25 15. Only qualified persons may attend deposition examination in this case.

26 16. Any court reporter who transcribes testimony in this action at a deposition shall 27 agree, before transcribing any such testimony, that all testimony containing confidential
28

1 information is and shall remain confidential and shall not be disclosed except as provided in this
 2 Protective Order and that copies of any transcript, reporter's notes, or any other transcripts
 3 records of any such testimony will be retained in absolute confidentiality and safekeeping by 4 such shorthand reporter or delivered to attorneys of record or filed with the Court.
 5

6 17. Nothing in this Protective Order requires a party to disclose confidential information
 7 that the party also contends is protected from disclosure based upon a privilege or 8 for some reason other than the mere confidential nature of the document or information.
 9

10 18. Upon the final determination of this action, counsel and all qualified persons shall 11 return any confidential information to the disclosing party, together with any copies of 12 confidential information. Transcripts containing confidential information also must be returned 13 to the disclosing party. All notes or any other memorialization of the information contained in 14 the confidential material produced that are in the possession of counsel may be retained by 15 counsel, but shall be placed in a sealed envelope or other container on the face of which shall be 16 typed or printed:
 17

18 CONFIDENTIAL

19 Any Confidential Information or Documents will be filed under seal with the Court.

20 The information contained herein is confidential and subject to a protective order issued by the 21 US District Court of Nevada. Anyone not permitted to review this information as set forth in the 22 protective order is in violation of that order and may have sanctions imposed against him or her
 23 as the Court may determine and allowable under law and may also be subject to contempt of 24 court proceedings.
